

GALLAGHER SIMPLIFIES AUSTRALIAN SERVICE WITH KENTRONICS PARTNERSHIP

19 April 2013

Gallagher Fuel Systems Ltd (formerly PEC) are pleased to announce the appointment of Kentronics as the official service and repair provider for all electronics in their Australian fuel delivery systems.

Kentronics have been certified by Gallagher as fully competent to perform intrinsically safe repair or refurbishment of the Gallagher and PEC ranges of electronics to the AS/NZS 3800:2005 Repair Standard.

Having a certified repair agent in Australia means a faster turnaround on repairs. Gallagher's Australian clients and Service Partners will find the repair process far more simple and cost effective by going through Kentronics direct.

Gallagher is a global leader in the innovation and design of customer inspired fuel delivery systems. The company's relentless innovation has redefined what's possible for customers since 1938.

Kentronics is Australia's premier repair and service organisation for all electronics related to the Petroleum Industry. Kentronics has been operating since 1996 and continues to grow based on excellent customer service, superior technical skills and cost-effective outcomes. With a focus on rapid turnaround, Kentronics ensure that business continuity is achieved through minimal downtime. Kentronics are extremely proud of the reputation they have within the industry and continue to focus on new ways to improve and deliver better results.
